

SPEAKER INTRODUCTION

Introducing David Suson

A short script to read aloud from the stage as David is welcomed up.

PRONOUNCED David SOO-zun

For most of our lives, we think we've got it figured out.

How people work. How success works. Why things are the way they are.

Our next speaker thought he had it figured out too.

He didn't.

He struggled. For years.

He was shy. He was scared. He got it wrong a lot.

He almost gave up.

A lot of people give up right there. They decide that's just how it is.

But not him. He went looking for answers.

He's had more than 3,000 conversations. With top leaders. With everyday people.

And here's what he found.

Some of what we're most sure about... is the very thing holding us back.

But the moment you see it differently? Everything opens up.

He learned that the hard way. And he's still learning it.

He's a former top 1% performer at IBM. He's an author. And he's spent his life helping people see... what he had to discover for himself.

By the time he's done, you'll never see it the same way again.

So lean in.

Please welcome... David Suson!
